Preamble

The aim of this addendum is to revise the contribution of the CNRS to the CTF3 collaboration with regard to the equipment provided by the LURE Laboratory, without modifying any other disposals.

Equipment provided by the LURE Laboratory and revised part of CNRS

At the request of the CERN, the LURE Laboratory has agreed to provide, in addition to the 32 quadrupoles already delivered by the CERN, the equipment described in the document attached to this one, of which value is evaluated to 20 k€.

So, after delivery of this equipment to the CERN, the part of CNRS will be 395 k€ instead of 375 k€.

This amendment, made in two copies, shall form an integral part of the initial Addendum signed on April 25, 2006. It comes into effect at the delivery date of the material.
